Gold Standard	Proposed Legislation	Grade
Ban on corporate and union donations.	Only eligible individuals can donate. Corporations, unions and other non-individual voters are prohibited from donating.	A
Cap on individual contributions: less than $1,000 a year.	Limits annual donations to $1,200 to political party and candidates combined.	B+
Ban on anonymous donations.	No ban on anonymous donations. Stricter regulations around reporting of anonymous donors.	D-
Ban on foreign and out-of-province donations.	A complete ban on donations from foreign and non-B.C. residents. Donors must be residents of B.C. who are Canadian citizens or permanent residents.	A
Donations should be publicly disclosed in real-time.	New requirements for disclosing attendees at political functions: requires 7 days advance notice, plus reporting within 60 days.	C-
Ban on in-kind donations and employee lending.	Loans of staff or services are subject to the same laws as financial donations, meaning unions and corporations are not allowed to lend staff. However, loopholes still exist. Loans allowed from savings institutions, but must be paid back.	C+
Lower campaign spending limits.	Reduces the amount a candidate or party can spend by 17%.	A-
Laws should be imposed retroactively back to May 9, 2017.	All previous donations that were not in compliance with the new rules cannot be spent on future election expenses. However, this will be difficult to track.	A-
Includes revisiting and reviewing legislation every ten years.	No updated requirement.	F
These laws also apply to municipal campaigns.	Not included in the bill, but promised in follow up legislation.	Incomplete
